In relation to each Member State of the European Economic Area (the “EEA”) which has implemented the Prospectus Directive (each, a Relevant Member State), with effect from and including the date on which the Prospectus Directive is implemented in that Relevant Member State (the Relevant Implementation Date) no offer of units of NMF may be made to the public in that Relevant Member State except in circumstances falling within Article 3(2) of the Prospectus Directive, provided that no such offer of units shall require the publication of a prospectus pursuant to Article 3 of the Prospectus Directive, or a supplement to a prospectus pursuant to Article 16 of the Prospectus Directive.

Article 23 (1)(a)
Objectives of the AIF	NMF aims to secure stable mid-to-long term income and to achieve steady growth of its assets by primarily investing in relatively new logistics facilities and retail facilities, residential buildings, office buildings and hotels mainly in the Tokyo Area, which we believe will continue to generate strong demand for properties by tenants.
Investment strategy	By using the robust Nomura Real Estate Group’s extensive sourcing network, NMF aims to secure stable mid-to-long term income and to achieve steady growth of its assets through primarily investing in (i) relatively new logistics facilities and retail facilities less than 10 years old that are located in the Tokyo Area, (ii) residential buildings which target office workers and students in their twenties and thirties, mainly located in the Tokyo Area, (iii) office buildings mainly located in the Tokyo Area, and (iv) hotels mainly located in the Tokyo Area .
Types of assets the AIF may invest in	Real estate, trust beneficiary interests in real estate, real estate securities, specified assets and other assets.
Techniques it may employ and all associated risks	The principal risks with respect to investment in NMF are as follows: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• any adverse conditions in the Japanese economy could adversely affect NMF;</li> <li>• NMF may not be able to acquire properties to execute the growth and investment strategy in a manner that is accretive to earnings;</li> <li>• illiquidity in the real estate market may limit the ability to grow or adjust the portfolio;</li> <li>• the past experience of the AIFM in the Japanese real estate market is not an indicator or guarantee of the future results;</li> <li>• NMF’s reliance on Nomura Real Estate Group including the AIFM and other third party service providers could have a material adverse effect on its business;</li> <li>• NMF may change its detailed investment policy without a formal amendment of the articles of incorporation.</li> <li>• there are potential conflicts of interest between NMF, NMF’s related parties and AIFM;</li> <li>• NMF’s revenues largely comprise leasing revenues from the portfolio properties, which may be negatively affected by factors including vacancies, decreases in rent, and late or missed payments by tenants;</li> <li>• Because many of its logistics and retail properties and some of the office properties are used by a single or a few tenants, NMF’s performance may be materially adversely affected by the performance of a small number of tenants in each such property.</li> <li>• NMF faces significant competition in seeking tenants and it may be difficult to find replacement tenants, especially as to logistics properties;</li> </ul>

- increases in interest rates may increase the interest expense and may result in a decline in the market price of the units;
- NMF may suffer large losses if any of the properties incurs damage from a natural or man-made disaster;
- many of the properties in the portfolio are concentrated in the Tokyo Metropolitan Area;
- any inability to obtain financing from issuance of investments units, loan and issuance of investment corporation bonds for future acquisitions could adversely affect the growth of the portfolio;
- there is no guarantee that NMF will receive expected synergy or benefits from its recent mergers with other J-REITs, and the properties and liabilities that NMF succeeded to could have a material adverse effect on NMF;
- NMF's failure to satisfy a complex series of requirements pursuant to Japanese tax regulations would disqualify NMF from certain taxation benefits and significantly reduce the cash distributions to the unitholders; and
- the ownership rights in some of the properties may be declared invalid or limited.

In addition, NMF is subject to the following risks:

- risks related to increasing operating costs;
- risks related to the restrictive covenants under debt financing arrangement;
- risks related to entering into forward commitment contracts;
- risks related to hotels with single tenants or core tenants;
- risks related to third party leasehold interests in the land underlying NMF's properties;
- risks related to investment in properties where NMF owns only the land or only the building;
- risks related to holding the property in the form of compartmentalized ownership (kubun shoyū) interests or co-ownership interests (kyōyū-mochibun);
- risks related to holding the property in the form of limited proprietary right of land (as it called "soko-chi")
- risks related to properties not in operation (including properties under development);
- risks related to the defective title, design, construction or other defects or problems in the properties;
- risks related to suffering impairment losses relating to the properties;
- risks related to decreasing tenant leasehold deposits and/or security deposits;
- risks related to tenants' default as a result of financial difficulty or insolvency;
- risks related to the insolvency of master lessor;
- risks related to the insolvency of seller of the properties;

	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• risks related to relying on expert appraisals and engineering, environmental and seismic reports as well as industry and market data;</li> <li>• risks related to the presence of hazardous or toxic substances in the properties, or the failure to properly remediate such substances;</li> <li>• risks related to the strict environmental liabilities for the properties, and implementation of countermeasures against global warming;</li> <li>• risks related to the amendment of the applicable administrative laws and local ordinances;</li> <li>• risks related to investments in anonymous associations (tokumei kumiai);</li> <li>• risks related to investments in trust beneficiary interest;</li> <li>• risks related to the tight supervision by the regulatory authorities and compliance with applicable rules and regulations;</li> <li>• risks related to the tax authority disagreement with the AIFM’s interpretations of the Japanese tax laws and regulations;</li> <li>• risks related to being unable to benefit from reductions in certain real estate taxes enjoyed by qualified J-REITs;</li> <li>• risks related to changes in Japanese tax laws; and</li> <li>• the risk of dilution as a result of further issuances of units.</li> </ul>
Any applicable investment restrictions	NMF is subject to investment restrictions under Japanese laws and regulations (e.g., the Act on Investment Trusts and Investment Corporations (the “ITA”), the Financial Instruments and Exchange Act (the “FIEA”)) as well as its articles of incorporation. NMF must invest primarily in specified assets as defined in the ITA. Specified assets include, but are not limited to, securities, real estate, leaseholds of real estate, surface rights (chijō-ken) (i.e., right to use land for the purpose of having a structure on it) or trust beneficiary interests for securities or real estate, leaseholds of real estate or surface rights. Furthermore, a listed J-REIT must invest substantially all of its assets in real estate, real estate-related assets and liquid assets as provided by the listing requirements. Real estate in this context includes, but is not limited to, real estate, leaseholds of real estate, surface rights, and trust beneficiary interests for these assets, and real estate-related assets in this context include, but are not limited to, anonymous association (tokumei kumiai) interests for investment in real estate. Pursuant to the ITA, investment corporations may not independently develop land for housing or to construct buildings, but may outsource such activities in certain circumstances.
Circumstances in which the AIF may use leverage	NMF may take out loans or issue long-term or short-term investment corporation bonds for the purpose of investing in properties, conducting repairs, paying cash distributions, repaying obligations (including repayment of tenant leasehold or security deposits, and obligations related to loans or long-term or short-term investment corporation bonds) and other activities.

The types and sources of leverage permitted and associated risks	Loans or investment corporation bonds: NMF may be subject to restrictive covenants in connection with any future indebtedness that may restrict the operations and limit the ability to make cash distributions to unitholders, to dispose of the properties or to acquire additional properties. Furthermore, NMF may violate restrictive covenants contained in the loan agreements NMF executes, such as the maintenance of debt service coverage or loan-to-value ratios, which may entitle the lenders to require NMF to collateralize the properties or demand that the entire outstanding balance be paid. Further, in the event of an increase in interest rates, to the extent that NMF has any debt with unhedged floating rates of interest or NMF incurs new debt, interest payments may increase, which in turn could reduce the amount of cash available for distributions to unitholders. Higher interest rates may also limit the capacity for short- and long-term borrowings, which would in turn limit the ability to acquire properties, and could cause the market price of the units to decline.
Any restrictions on leverage	The maximum amount of each loan and investment corporation bond issuance will be two trillion yen, and the aggregate amount of all such debt will not exceed two trillion yen.
Any restrictions on collateral and asset reuse arrangements	No applicable arrangements.
Maximum level of leverage which the AIFM is entitled to employ on behalf of the AIF	NMF has set an upper limit of 60% as a general rule for its loan-to-value, or LTV, ratio in order to operate with a stable financial condition. NMF may, however, temporarily exceed any such levels as a result of property acquisitions or other events.
Article 23(1) (b)
Procedure by which the AIF may change its investment strategy / investment policy	Amendment of the articles of incorporation – Amendment requires a quorum of a majority of the total issued units and at least a two-thirds vote of the voting rights represented at the meeting. Unitholders should note, however, that under the ITA and our articles of incorporation, unitholders who do not attend and exercise their voting rights at a general meeting of unitholders are deemed to be in agreement with proposals submitted at the meeting, except in cases where contrary proposals are also being submitted. Additionally, the guidelines of the AIFM, which provide more detailed policies within NMF’s overall investment strategy and policy, can be modified without such formal amendment of the articles of incorporation.

Article 23(1) (c)
Description of the main legal implications of the contractual relationship entered into for the purpose of investment, including jurisdiction, applicable law, and the existence or not of any legal instruments providing for the recognition and enforcement of judgments in the territory where the AIF is established	NMF is party to an Asset Custody Agreement with Sumitomo Mitsui Trust Bank, Limited regarding NMF's assets. NMF is party to the following agreements with Mitsubishi UFJ Trust and Banking Corporation: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Transfer Agency Agreement;</li> <li>• General Administration Agreement</li> <li>• Special Account Management Agreement</li> </ul> NMF is party to a Financial Agency Agreement with the Bank of Tokyo-Mitsubishi UFJ, Ltd., Sumitomo Mitsui Banking Corporation, Nomura Securities Co., Ltd. and Mizuho Securities Co., Ltd. regarding NMF's investment corporation bonds. All of the above agreements are governed by Japanese law. NMF is not involved in or threatened by any legal arbitration, administrative or other proceedings, the results of which might, individually or in the aggregate, be material. NMF is a corporate-type investment trust in the form of investment corporation (toshi hojin) provided for under the ITA. Therefore, the relationship between NMF and its unitholders is governed by NMF's articles of incorporation (as opposed to individual agreements), which can be amended from time to time upon resolution of a general unitholders' meeting. NMF's articles of incorporation stipulate rules relating to general unitholders meetings, including the convocation, setting of record date, exercise of voting rights, resolutions and election of NMF's directors. The relationship between NMF and its unitholders is also governed by, and is subject to the provisions of, Japanese law, including the ITA. The courts in Japan would recognize as a valid judgment any final and conclusive civil judgment for monetary claims (which, for this purpose, are limited to those of a purely civil nature and do not include monetary claims of the nature of criminal or administrative sanction, such as punitive damages, even though they take the form of civil claims) against NMF obtained in a foreign court provided that (i) the jurisdiction of such foreign court is admitted under the laws of Japan, (ii) NMF has received service of process for the commencement of the relevant proceedings, otherwise than by a public notice or any method comparable thereto, or has appeared without any reservation before such foreign court, (iii) neither such judgment nor the relevant proceeding is repugnant to public policy as applied in Japan, (iv) there exists reciprocity as to the recognition by such foreign court
